Legendary Castle Re-Appears!

Castle Mysterium

No one can explain HOW or WHY, but the Castle Mysterium, which vanished on October 31st nearly 100 years ago, has just re-appeared out of thin air!

The Castle has a strange and dark history. It was owned by eccentric millionaire and inventor, Ridley Underspell Nervis. R.U. Nervis claimed to have assembled the strange Castle from pieces of the original "Seven Wonders of the Wonderlens". Scientists laughed at this wild claim. The Seven Wonders were, according to myth, the most amazing places ever created. They included the Observatory of the Lost City of Atlantis and a vast lighthouse made of solid gold, in which a powerful Genie lived. It's hard to believe that these places ever existed, but the Lighthouse of the Genie, the Observatory of Atlantis and the rest of the huge Castle are now BACK! The entire Castle can be found sitting atop the remote cliff where it originally sat overlooking the ocean almost 100 years ago. This story is just BEGINNING!
